THE REGISTRATION TO THE 2013 SCP DOCTORAL CONSORTIUM IS OPEN!

We invite doctoral students to register for the 2013 SCP Doctoral Consortium in San Antonio. The Consortium will be held on Thursday, February 28, 2013. The event lasts a full day and features presentations from scholars in the field about managing research, publication, and career. Additionally, “Roundtable Discussions” will bring together small groups of students with similar research interests to discuss the details of the research process with two experts in that area. The day will end with a reception to give the participants more opportunity to chat with each other and to catch up with faculty they might have missed in the earlier roundtable (drinks and hors d’oeuvres will serve to keep everyone cheerful and present).

To keep a creative and friendly atmosphere, the number of students participating to the Consortium will be capped at 85, so register as soon as possible to make sure you will enjoy this opportunity (the event always fills). We hope that this will be a great occasion to share research ideas, learn how to survive the PhD program (and beyond), and to make new friends. Highlights of the program are described below in the Preliminary Program.

Registration is $70 and can be found at http://www.myscp.org/conferences/default.aspx. When you register you will answer a small number of questions so that we can match your interests with those of the faculty participants. Obviously your responses are quite important.

Preliminary Program

- Welcome by Michel Tuan Pham, Columbia University, SCP President
- Session 1—Planning your research: One Perspective. Speaker: James Bettman, Duke University
- Session 2—Planning your research: Another Perspective. Speaker: Punam Anand Keller, Dartmouth College
- Session 3—Planning the Publication Process. Speakers: Ann McGill, University of Chicago; Vicki Morwitz, New York University; Connie Pechmann, University of California, Irvine; Patti Williams, University of Pennsylvania
- Sessions 4a and 4b—Research Roundtables. Faculty: Pankaj Aggarwal, University of Toronto; Zeynep Arsel, Concordia University; Jonah Berger, University of Pennsylvania; Kristin Diehl, University of Southern California; Shane Frederick, Yale University; Ayelet Gneezy, University of California, San Diego; Joseph Goodman, Washington University, St. Louis; Uzma Khan, Stanford University; Wendy Liu, University of California, San Diego; Selin Malkoc, Washington University, St. Louis; Nina Mazar, University of Toronto; Cassie Mogilner, University of Pennsylvania; Michael Norton, Harvard University; Hilke Plassmann, INSEAD; Linda Price, University of Arizona; Joseph Simmons, University of Pennsylvania; Zakary Tormala, Stanford University; Stijn van Osselaer, Erasmus University; Joachim Vosgerau, Carnegie Mellon University; Klaus Wertenbroch, INSEAD; Juliet Zhu, University of British Columbia
- Session 5—Planning your career: One Perspective. Speaker: Barbara Kahn, University of Pennsylvania
- Session 6—Planning your career: Another Perspective. Speaker: Geeta Menon, New York University
- Final Reception, all faculty and students